Abstract

The enormous economic potential of halal tourism has recently begun to be discussed. Crescent Rating data notes that in 2014 Muslims spend about USD126.1 billion globally on Islamic tourism, and Indonesia as the 6th most popular halal tourism site in the world. This potential needs to be cultivated by Indonesia. Lombok Island as one of the most popular Islamic tourism destinations in Indonesia - in 2015 it received two awards (the Best World Halal Tourism Destination and World Best Halal Honeymoon Destination). The governor of Nusa Tenggara Barat Zuelkiflimansyah has expressed interest in further developing halal tourism in Lombok by promoting some additional destinations such as Senggigi Beach, Gili Trawangan, and Rinjani Mountain. This paper offers SWOT analysis of the development of halal tourism on the Lombok island.

Nusa Tenggara Barat (NTB), Nangroe Aceh Darussalam, West Sumatra, Riau, Lampung, Banten, Jakarta, West Java, Central Java, Yogyakarta, East Java, South Sulawesi, and Bali (IndonesiaTravel, 2013).

Nusa Tenggara Barat Province with a tourism center that has long been known to the world on its own island through their governor Zuelkiflimansyah has stated readiness as one of the centers of halal tourism in Indonesia by utilizing the anthropology of the majority Muslim community and the natural beauty there.

Therefore, in this journal the author will examine the development of halal tourism in Lombok Island through a SWOT analysis (Strength, Weakness, Opportunity, and Threat) with a case study on three main tourist destinations on Lombok island, namely Gili Trawangan, Rinjani Mountain, and Senggigi beach.

2. Research Methods

In this research data type used is type of qualitative data and quantitative data, whereas data source used is primary data source and secondary data source. As for research this technique data collection use observation methods with observation directly on research location, depth Interview (in- depth interview) that is researcher asking directly to informants selected, and studies document (documentation).

Sugiyono (2009: 221) suggests that in something research determination informant very influence results from research the test especially again qualitative research, because determination informant function for get maximum information.

The research that the authors adopt in this journal will use the SWOT analysis method which is a one of method to develop condition and evaluate something issue, project or concept business by factor internal (in) and factor external (outside) that is strength , weakness, opportunities, and threats. Freddy (2014: 83) states the method this is most often used in evaluation method for looking for lack in current conditions and find the right strategy for find solution of the problem.

SWOT analysis consists from four factor that is:

a. Strengths are strength conditions contained within existing organization, project or business concept, the power being analyzed will factor m tiles lying body of the organization, the project concept business itself, what are the strengths of tourism, with knowing strength, tourism can be developed into more power tough to survive in the market and is capable of competitive market for next development regarding tourism.

b. Weakness (Weakness) Represents condition weakness contained in organization, project or concept existing business, weaknesses are analyzed, the factors that are in body organization, project or concept business that itself, in this study namely all factor that is n't guiding right or harm for development object tour.

c. Opportunities (Opportunities) Are conditions for opportunities to develop in the future what happened, the condition that occurred was an opportunity from the outside organization, project or business concept, itself is a competitor, policy, etc.

d. Threats (Threats) Are threatening condition from outside. Threat this could could disturb organization, project or concept business run.

4. Potential and Tourist Attraction of Lombok Island

In this research the author conducted a case study on the development of halal tourism on the island of Lombok for several reasons. First, before winning two international awards at the World Halal Travel Award in the United Emirates Arab (UEA) in 2015, namely in the category of the World's Best Destination and World's Best Halal Tourism Honeymoon Destination Lombok island has long been known for its tourism potential and the majority of the population with Islamic names so that both can be seen as great potential in developing halal tourism on the Lombok island.

Talking about the tourism potential owned by the Lombok island, basically it can be divided into two tourism potentials, namely nature and socio-cultural potential. Tourist destinations on the Lombok island have various types of tourist attractions that range from the beauty of the sea and the coast as well as in three gili, senggigi beaches, and the beaches of Kuta, highlands and waterfalls as well as in the Bayan and Rinjani Mountain regions, to the potential socio-cultural tourism such as Bau Nyale and Nyongkolan are usually enlivened with various cultural attractions such as marches with traditional clothes and traditional arts.

5. Lombok Halal Tourism Development from Strategy Strength-Opportunity (SO)

From this strategy there are several things that can be done in developing halal tourism on Lombok island including:

- Increased infrastructure that can facilitate tourists such as places of worship, tourism information centers, public toilets and trash bins, and pay more attention to the safety and comfort of visitors by increasing the security and comfort of tourist attractions.
- Make special tour packages according to the target market such as the Malaysian market that is interested in historical and religious tourism or the American and European markets that like adrenaline-boosting activities such as surfing and climbing Mount Rinjani.
- Cooperating with the tourism ministry primarily in creating halal certification for the concept of halal tourism on the Lombok island.

6. Lombok Halal Tourism Development from the Weakness-Opportunity (WO) Strategy

From this strategy there are several things that can be done in developing halal tourism on Lombok island including:

- Providing incentives from the central / regional government especially in matters relating to the submission and financing of halal certification and human resource training in the form of tourism conscious groups.
- Repair of supporting facilities and infrastructure as well as places of worship, residences, and supporting facilities such as restaurants and hospitals
- Improve tourism promotion strategies by following the current technological developments.

7. Lombok Halal Tourism Development from Strategy Strength-Threat (ST)

From this strategy there are several things that can be done in developing halal tourism on Lombok island including:

- Increased coordination and cooperation in socializing sharia tourism to both local residents and international and local institutions that are intense in terms of sharia tourism such as Crescent Rating or PATA in relation to halal tourism promotion on the Lombok island.
- Develop differentiation with different halal tourism attractions compared to the concept of halal tourism in other regions.
- Increasing the security and comfort of tourists that can be done by collaborating intensely with local residents and related parties such as the police.

8. Lombok Halal Tourism Development from the Weakness-Threat (WT) Strategy

From this strategy there are several things that can be done in developing halal tourism on Lombok island including:

- Continue to maintain and pay attention to the characteristics of the socio-cultural uniqueness of the Lombok island
- Encouraging tourism businesses to study English, Arabic, and other foreign languages in relation to attracting foreign tourists.
- Branding which shows the uniqueness of Lombok as halal tourism destination compared to other regions.

9. Conclusion

Based on the description above, it can be drawn a brief conclusion that the efforts to develop halal tourism on the island of Lombok have basically been going well even though there are still some efforts to develop in the future.
